

R-34 IN MID-OCEAN COMING STEADILY AS A BIG STEAMER

Big British Dirigible Due in Newfoundland Friday Morning and Mineola Saturday—Making 34 Knots an Hour.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, July 3.—The great British dirigible R-34 is approaching the American continent this afternoon and should reach the coast of Newfoundland shortly after daybreak tomorrow morning.

She is due to arrive at Mineola, L. I., Saturday morning. More than 750 aviation men were on duty there this morning to greet the first lighter-than-air vessel to cross the Atlantic.

The latest dispatch from London indicates that the R-34 was between 500 and 600 miles off Newfoundland early this afternoon. She was heading almost directly westward, with just enough of a southerly deviation to bring her over St. John's.

The big airship maintained an even speed of about thirty-four knots today. Apparently she is meeting with no more difficulty from the elements than the giant Mauretania or Leviathan steamships would encounter on a trans-oceanic voyage.

In her westward flight this morning she soared above the clouds. While passengers aboard big trans-Atlantic liners were experiencing the discomforts of fog mists, the twenty-four men of the R-34's crew, half a mile aloft, sped along in brilliant sunshine.

Wireless messages were sent from Major Scott's forward cabin at 3 o'clock, then at 6:11 and later at 8 a. m. All these were brief messages merely indicating the airship's successive stages of progress across the sky and reporting on weather conditions.

ROTARIANS GET ADVANCE STORY

Edward Hungerford, Famous Author, Gives Kingston Rotarians Interesting First Story of His Trip to Scenes of European War.

Kingston Rotarians and their wives and sisters who attended the dinner at the Eagle Hotel Wednesday evening had the rare privilege of being the first to hear an address covering facts, opinions and experiences that later, in more elaborate form, will be read by millions of persons all over the country.

Edward Hungerford, author, traveler, writer of articles on many topics for the popular magazines, was the speaker and for nearly two hours held the close attention of his audience as he "hit the high spots" of experience and observation during a tour of England, France, and Germany last winter. The long-suffering people of the speaker's father, Chance, but for once this phrase did not apply to an after dinner speaker's audience. Nobody suffered and everybody would gladly have remained another hour.

Mr. Hungerford speaks as well as he writes, which is saying a whole lot for him as a speaker. Being a trained observer and having had unusual facilities for observation accorded to him while abroad, his word picture of after-the-war conditions is much more vivid and accurate than that of the ordinary tourist can be. The Freeman would like to print some of his anecdotes and descriptions, but as these are Mr. Hungerford's personal property for future marketing, to do so would be like stealing raw material from a factory's stock. Readers will have to wait for Mr. Hungerford's finished product in the magazines, which, judging from the samples given the Rotarians, will be well worth waiting for.

Of course the Rotarians sang. Harry P. Dodge is back from this trip to Salt Lake City, so they had to sing whether they wanted to or not. But they wanted to, especially when Mr. Dodge started them on two new songs he brought back with him from Salt Lake City.

MUST NOT EXPOSE INTOXICANTS

But 2.75 Per Cent. Beer May Be Legally Sold. Hotel Men Are Told By Attorneys—Restaurant Business Drops Off at One Hotel.

Members of the New York State Hotel Association have received notice from the attorneys of that association that they will be within the law if they sell beer containing not more than 2.75 per cent of alcohol.

At the same time they are cautioned not to expose any intoxicating liquors if they have any.

Joseph Pessner of the West Shore hotel, when interviewed today said, "I am selling liquors according to the instructions given me by the New York State Hotel Association of which I am a member and they will back me up in anything that I do, as long as I follow these instructions. I intend to abide with the law in every way."

Mr. Pessner received the following letter, this morning, which gives him his instructions for selling beer: "According to the latest information received by us, we advise that you will be within the law if you continue to sell beer containing not more than 2.75 alcohol. You are cautioned, however, not to expose any intoxicating liquors; therefore, if you have any wines of any kind or any distilled liquors, see that they are locked up in such a way that your bartender cannot have access to them."

"You are further advised that the 2.75 per cent alcohol beer is the only kind of beer which the brewers are now making and selling."

"It is further recommended that you continue in the manner as above stated until further advised by us."

"Very truly yours,"

"CAMPBELL & BOLAND, Attorneys."

Mr. Pessner said that his restaurant business had decreased 75 per cent since Tuesday. He thinks that this is due to the fact that people like to have something to drink when they eat outside the home but they are unable to get it as readily as before they either defer dining or go to some place where perhaps they have been told a cocktail with their meal might be obtained.

FRANCO-AMERICAN PACT GIVEN OUT

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Paris, July 3.—The text of the defensive pact between France, the United States, and Great Britain, was given out at the French foreign office last night, despite Secretary of State Lansing's statement an hour earlier that it could not be communicated to the public until it had been submitted to the United States senate.

The French press enthusiastically welcomes the official confirmation of the existence of the pact and expressed hope that the president will induce the senate to ratify it.

The Echo de Paris regrets that Great Britain does not unqualifiedly propose military aid to France.

N. Y. HOT AND DRY.

Barkeeps Work Hard But Profits Are Small.

By Telegram to The Freeman. New York, July 3.—The mercury ran above 85 in New York today and beer and light wines that sometimes ran above 2.75 were selling freely. Discouraged barkeeps chipped up a bit as the crowd piled in to imbibe wartime beverages, perspire and imbibe some more. But there was no concealing the fact that receipts were far below the days of 25 cent whiskeys and 40 cent cocktails and profits were in most cases practically nothing.

The allied military mission in Vienna has received word that the "Lenine boys," a band of young Bolsheviks, are again on the war-path at Budapest.

Bela Kun, the red dictator of Hungary, is treating the situation with a ruthless hand. He is quoted as saying: "The uprising must be choked with blood. Now is the time for the supreme test. The eyes of the whole world are upon us and the dictatorship must be maintained."

Declaration of Independence

IN CONGRESS, JULY 4, 1776

WHEN, in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume, among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident—that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. That, to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; that, whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and to institute a new government, laying its foundation on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness.

Prudence, indeed, will dictate that governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shown that mankind are more disposed to suffer while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such government, and to provide new guards for their future security. Such has been the patient sufferance of these colonies; and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former systems of government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute tyranny over these states. To prove this, let facts be submitted to a candid world.

He has refused his assent to laws the most wholesome and necessary for the public good. He has forbidden his governors to pass laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

He has refused to pass other laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of representation in the legislature—a right inestimable to them, and formidable to tyrants only.

He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their public records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measure.

He has dissolved representative houses repeatedly, for opposing, with manly firmness, his invasions on the rights of the people.

He has refused, for a long time after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected, whereby the legislative powers, incapable of annihilation, have returned to the people at large for their exercise; the State remaining, in the meantime, exposed to the dangers of anarchy from without, and confusion within.

He has endeavored to prevent the population of these states; for that purpose obstructing the laws for the naturalization of foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migration hither, and raising the conditions of new appropriations of lands.

He has obstructed the administration of justice, by refusing his assent to laws for establishing judiciary powers.

He has made judges dependent on his will alone for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.

He has erected a multitude of new offices, and sent hither swarms of officers to harass our people and eat out their substance.

He has kept among us in times of peace, standing armies, without the consent of our legislatures. He has affected to render the military independent of, and superior to, the civil power.

Others Persons Charged With War Responsibility To Face Judges Soon Also—Lloyd-George Explains Peace Treaty and French-American-British Pact.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, July 3.—Premier David Lloyd-George this afternoon laid the text of the German peace treaty before the house of commons and announced that the ex-kaiser would be tried soon before an international tribunal sitting in London.

At the same time he made the first official announcement in Commons that the United States and England had pledged themselves to go to the immediate aid of France if France is made the object of an unprovoked attack of aggression by Germany.

LAW OF SEARCH AND SEIZURE

Exists In This State But Doesn't Apply Under War Time Prohibition—An Interesting Case Decided By Judge Jenkins.

Since war time prohibition went into effect on July 1, the right of search and seizure has been given considerable discussion in this city. The right for saloon and hotel keepers to keep a stock of wine, whiskey and beer has been questioned. Many were of the opinion that a search and seizure law was not in existence in this state, but only in certain states that had voted "dry" some time ago and enacted such laws. The right of search and seizure of liquors kept for unlawful traffic exists in this state, but according to Judge James Jenkins this law cannot be used to enforce war time or constitutional prohibition.

An interesting case of search and seizure arose in Ulster county during the raids made by the Civic League. New Paltz voted a tie on the prohibition question and the courts, upon review, nullified the decision of the inspectors of election and made the town wet. The court of appeals reversed the appellate division and again made the town dry.

When the town was wet, Anthony A. Shaffer, proprietor of the well known Steen's hotel, supplied his cellar, which at that time was lawful. As soon as the courts announced that the election was in favor of the wet, the zealous good citizens instituted search and seizure hoping to destroy Shaffer's liquors. The matter was finally tried before Judge Jenkins, who decided in favor of Shaffer, holding that Shaffer had a right to possession of liquors under the then law so long as the possession was not for an unlawful distribution. Shaffer claiming that he was holding the liquors until the final determination of the court of appeals on his right to sell. He was sustained in this contention. The decision of Judge Jenkins is reported in 84 Miscellaneous, page 104.

As the law stands today in cities, liquors may be seized under section 22 of the City Local Option law, and in the towns under section 30 of the Liquor Tax law. Possession of liquor in dry territory for any purpose is made a crime.

After the decision in the Shaffer case the Anti-Saloon League implored the legislature to pass a law making possession of liquors in any quantity in dry territory a crime, no matter whether the possession was for traffic or private use and authorized search and seizure in towns, but left the provision out so far as cities were concerned.

Search and seizure, as provided by the state law, explained Judge Jenkins when questioned today, cannot be used to enforce war time or constitutional prohibition until congress passes a law of procedure. Such a law, more drastic than the present state law, will probably be passed this month, he said.

Death.

Death is nothing more or less than sliding back into your own subconscious, and so becoming greater and finer and more active—more useful, too—and with greater power than we ever had in our limited imperfect bodies. Life is nothing but an episode in our universal life.

Death is just a change of location then, really; that's all—From "The Promise of Air" by Algernon Blackwood.

According to a bulletin of the Department of Agriculture, "sheep embody democracy." Secretary Houston's precise meaning is not very clear, but we trust he does not intend to liken American democracy to a flock of sheep. A democracy that is anything like a sheep is a failure. A sheep is an excellent and useful creature in its way, but it can not defend itself and will follow any sort of leader blindly. We want no such spirit in our wide-awake American democracy.

GIVE US A REST.

If the promoters of any worthy institution contemplate a "drive" to secure large funds, they would be wise to wait until the public has enjoyed a much needed rest. It is evident that the people are tired of so many "drives," as the Salvation Army and Boy Scouts, although both are worthy and popular, have discovered. The American people are not stingy. In great part they are exceptionally generous, but during and since the war their pocketbooks have been appealed to so often that they have begun to feel the pinch and are now inclined to think twice before they pay out more. "I've done all I can afford," is the thought of the average man. Even those who can afford to keep on giving are doubtless becoming irritated by ceaseless requests for aid, requests too often made with a cool assumption of a complete right to demand and at times with even a suggestion of officiousness or impudence.

The thing is being overdone and now that the appeal to patriotism has lost its force the chances of success are limited. Another disadvantage is that the novelty of the forms of appeal, such as addresses between the acts, has worn off and people who now go into the play houses for amusement are inclined to give the seeker after funds a chilly reception. Then there is a growing distrust of campaigners for little known institutions because of the discovery that the scheme has been worked successfully by frauds. It is well to recognize the fact that the public not only needs but intends to take a rest.

INVESTIGATE CONGRESS.

The zeal for investigation having reached the limit of proposals to investigate the investigators, it would be quite proper as well as highly desirable for Congress to investigate itself or a large number of its members. That Congress ought to investigate itself, or many of its members, is made very clear by the annual report of the Clerk of the House of Representatives. Take the "stationery account" of this report, for example, and consider some of its astonishing items. Why should 744 packs of playing cards have been purchased with the people's money? Why should a house with but one lady member make Uncle Sam pay for 45 manicure sets, one powder puff, a Parisian ivory box, a hair receiver, numerous sachets and a dozen assorted "brushes"? The same curious record shows bars, purses and brief cases, to the number of 298 purchased during the year, also 16,000 greeting cards, a lot of birth announcements, valentines, dinner cards and "hot home" cards. Uncle Sam was further made to pay for 271 pocket knives, 167 fountain pens, 100 door sashes, 100 door knobs, 100 vacuum bottles and one half dozen egg crates.

Such government paid stationery is a scandal in itself, but as a thing to be broken up in the taxpayers' minds the investigation above of the free-living payees, one instance of which may be mentioned as typical of the rest. A certain congressman engaged on his home in Connecticut, in the construction of the house, to have sent out to the voters 500,000 parcels of food, scattered in one day. The congressman's poster on these parcels has been estimated at about an average of 40 cents each, which means that in one year the anti-trust Congressmen forced Uncle Sam to subsidize a population of 200,000,000 in the form of food parcels. But Congressmen themselves are the official beneficiaries of the various parcels. That is quite proper, provided due allowance is made when the whimsy of the war to a hurry as the subject. But let Congress not forget to investigate itself also and go after many of its members with a sharp stick.

Independence Day in 1919

YOU may feel, as so many others do, that the Fourth of July in 1919 has, and should have, a new significance. The Fathers of this nation fought a strong enemy that they might gain political freedom for themselves and their children's children.

The Sons of the nation have just been fighting that they might give political freedom to others.

The one thing we ought to be proudest of, and celebrate most enthusiastically, is not so much the freedom they have won for us and others, as the fact that they were willing to fight for it.

And we ought to pause long enough from noise, and games and gaiety, to resolve with some solemnity, that nothing we can do shall be left undone, to keep and perpetuate what has been gained.

That's one of the uses of such a holiday; we're all going to quit business and make it a day

H. R. D. L. SHOP IN POUGHKEEPSIE

Fleet Of Steamers To Winter In That City—75 Skilled Workers To Be Employed According To Poughkeepsie Newspaper.

That the Hudson River Day Line is arranging for the erection of a repair shop here and that practically all the repairs to its boats will be done at this city, employing as many as seventy-five men in winter and twenty-five in summer, became known today, says the Poughkeepsie Star.

Plans for the new shop are now being made and would have been filed by this time except for the fact that the company's architect suffered a stroke of paralysis. A temporary permit for the erection of a home for the company's chief engineer in North Front street has been issued by City Building Inspector John W. Brown, however, and work on this building will be started at once.

The Day Line Company's repair shop will be of brick and of sufficient size to meet all requirements. It is said that the company's five steamers will be brought here at the end of each season and the annual overhauling will be done here. The company, it is said, has ample room for handling its fleet at Poughkeepsie.

Because of the illness of the company's architect it is expected that a temporary permit for the erection of the Day Line Company's machine shop will be asked for. It will undoubtedly be granted. Regular plans can be filed later.

The men to be employed in the Day Line shop will be skilled workers. Several of them will be riveters. Poughkeepsie men who learned this trade in shipyards during the war. The class of help to be employed here will be high grade and well paid.

TALENT OF PUPILS

At the recital given by the piano pupils of Miss Ethel Mauterstock at the lecture room of the Trinity M. E. Church Wednesday evening, a pleasing program was well presented and much talent was shown by some of the young people.

For the most part the pupils played from memory, with confidence and that ease which comes from careful training. Every number was enjoyable while a few numbers were exceptionally so. All of the four and six hand numbers were remarkably well rendered.

A pleasing variation from the piano numbers was afforded by the singing of "You" by Wooley and "The Birth of Morn." by Leon, by Mrs. Roy Wood, who delighted the audience with her vocalization.

Another most interesting feature of the program was the two readings given by Master Joseph Block, whose interpretation of Abraham Lincoln's "Gettysburg Address," was remarkable. If the young of our land can begin to have the appreciation of this masterpiece of literature, patriotism and righteousness that this lad had there will be no occasion for anxiety over the future of our country. It was indeed impressive. Following this number, Master Block gave a most realistic reading of Eugene Field's "The Limitation of Youth," greatly to the delight of the audience.

Exceptional talent was shown by Miss Edna Goodsell in her playing of the Intermezzo by Friml; by Miss Gladys Raichle in both numbers "Spring Carol," by Merkel and "Chattering Birds" by Townsend. Miss Mariam Motrie in the "A La Bien-Aimee" by Schutte; Miss Laura Bailey in Grieg's "Pavillon," and Miss Jacquelyn Monroe in the "Romance" by Zitterdort all proved themselves well worth serious cultivation. While Elmer Douglas, exceptionally gifted, whose musical progress has been watched with interest, showed himself as continuing to make good in most musically fashion in his playing of the Grieg, "To Spring." Congratulations were deservedly showered upon Miss Mauterstock and all of her pupils.

Big Mileage!

Fabrics 6,000 Miles
Cords 8,000 Miles

When you buy a Diamond Tire you can put it right down in your book that with fair and square usage it will render you 6,000 miles if it's a Fabric, or 8,000 if it's a Cord.

That's the new mileage basis on which Diamond dealers are authorized to sell Diamond Tires.

The increased adjustment covers all Diamond Tires, old and new, in hands of dealers, or in use on your car.

Add this plus adjustment mileage to the prestige Diamonds have already established with users and you will realize why it costs you money if you fail to drive Diamond Tires.

What you pay out your good money for is cigarette satisfaction—and, my, how you do get it in every puff of Camels!

EXPERTLY blended choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos in Camel cigarettes eliminate bite and free them from any unpleasant cigarette aftertaste or unpleasant cigarette odor.

Camels win instant and permanent success with smokers because the blend brings out to the limit the refreshing flavor and delightful mellow-mildness of the tobaccos yet retaining the desirable "body." Camels are simply a revelation! You may smoke them without tiring your taste!

For your own satisfaction you must compare Camels with any cigarette in the world at any price. Then, you'll best realize their superior quality and the rare enjoyment they provide.

I. FARBER.

How a Crab Grows.

The crab's equivalent to the interlocking of a puzzle is its tough outer shell which does not grow. The body each is covered by a tough, tough covering. So it breaks itself loose from its old covering and then grows a new one. The old covering is shed and the new one grows back, growing out in that way.

Pearl Superstition.

Pearls used to be considered lucky and lucky tells of more than one person who, before the sudden and tragic death of their loved ones, saw in dreams all their jewels turned to pearls and were told that if they wore pearls they would be safe. Just the same, some people back to back, sleeping out in that way.

THAT MESS ON JOHN STREET

For several days those who habitually travel through John street busy block from Wall to Fair street have been doing some wondering. Have Kingston people an unusual vision of good things to come which makes them willing to patiently endure annoyances which otherwise would not be tolerated? Are Kingstonians too indifferent to public discomforts to try to have them remedied? Have Kingstonians no interest in the opinion that the strangers who visit our town have of the place?

For several days now, the one short block mentioned and one of the busiest and most used short streets in the entire city has been impassable to the pedestrians except as they took to the roadway, while auto drivers have for the most part backed out of the street and made a block's detour rather than inconvenience those who had to walk through the middle of the street, or in preference to having their cars filled with the lime and plaster dust from two opposite buildings which on the corners of Wall and John streets are being remodelled and have practically tied up that street.

Has it been a necessity to have this sort of work done at the same time in this way, so that this important street at a time of year when there is much business and many visitors in town, should be so nearly useless, and generally disagreeable? Has the city nothing to say about the matter?

Furthermore, what about people who come into our town by auto and wish to pass through the upper part of the city to the country beyond? From the upper stories of both buildings long chutes are built from the upper windows to some six feet from the sidewalk and the debris of plaster, etc., is sent down these chutes to the street below, often from both sides of the street at the same time. Is this necessary?

Everyone wants to see our city grow and is glad and proud of the improvements being made, but must we have them at such a cost, or can there be some plan devised so that they need not be inaugurated by so much annoyance and discomfort?

And while we are talking about the betterment of Kingston, here's another matter. In the "Good-Bye-John-Barleycorn" celebration of Monday night several bottles were broken and the glass scattered on one of our paved streets at its intersection with another street both much used by motorists. The larger pieces of this broken glass were a decided menace to auto tires, and the Board of Public Works was notified of the matter by a property owner on one of the streets who asked that the street sweepers take up the glass before serious damage was done. The party telephoning was thanked by the Board of Public Works for notifying them but nothing happened to the glass except that by night most of it was crushed to powder and no one knows how many tires were cut through for some of the pieces were very sizeable.

This is certainly a good time to boost our beautiful and progressive city, but neither of the above conditions are of a character to attract strangers to a city which is so careless of the welfare of its guests.

MAVERICK CONCERT.

Celebrated Baritone From West at Woodstock Sunday.

Parish Williams, the celebrated San Francisco baritone, is visiting the pianist, Charles Cooper, on the Maverick and will favor the Sunday concert with a recital on July 6. Mr. Williams brings with him from the west an irresistible personality of gaiety and vigor that is sure to make him a popular idol in New York where he will be under the management of London Charlton.

The Woodstock and Kingston music lovers are fortunate to have a chance to hear him as once he is in a manager's hands, the Maverick management will be unable to secure him as Mr. Charlton's price will run up in the hundreds.

The program shows a wonderful range and is divided into three groups, classic, old French and modern English and American.

The program for next Sunday's concert by Parish Williams, baritone, and Charles Cooper, pianist:

HERE AND THERE ABOUT THE TOWN

The Stroller Hears Democrats Will Likely Not Select Candidates Until First of August—Who Wants Democratic Nomination For Mayor?

"Well, I see where the Republican political pot will soon start boiling," remarked the customer as he had his hair trimmed for the fourth.

"You hit it," replied the busy barber, "for the primaries will be held July 17, at which time delegates to the county convention to be held July 24, will be selected, and they will also nominate candidates for alderman and supervisor in each ward at the primaries."

"When do the Democrats meet?" asked the customer.

"They always wait until after the Republicans meet," explained the barber, "and when they see who has been selected by the party they try to induce some one to run against them."

"Have they got a candidate for mayor yet?" queried the customer. "Not yet," replied the barber, "although some of the downtown Democrats are trying to groom Bernard Donovan, the boat builder, as a candidate, but they have not got his promise that he will accept as yet."

"Then there is nothing definite about the Democratic ticket this fall," pursued the customer. "Not until some time in August," replied the barber, "for then they will know who the Republican candidates are."

"Haven't the uptown Democrats got a candidate for mayor?" asked the customer.

"There has been some talk of John T. Loughran, the well-known attorney, but there is a grave doubt as to whether he would run if tendered the nomination," explained the barber.

"They ought to get busy soon though," said the customer.

"I understand Jeffersonian Club will shortly meet," replied the barber, "and adopt resolutions asking the candidates, if any, to file their applications for the office of mayor with Postmaster DeWitt, and the first filed will receive prompt attention."

A MAGAZINE FOR EX-SERVICE MEN

American Legion Weekly Organ Makes Its Appearance—Former Service Men Make Up Staff—Circulation of Half Million Soon.

The American Legion, the national organization of American veterans of the great war, will on Friday publish the first number of its official magazine, "The American Legion Weekly."
One of the features of this number will be a cablegram from General John J. Pershing from France, in which he predicts for the legion, a most useful future of tremendous value in fostering the ideals and purposes for which the American armies fought.

General Pershing says in his message:
"It gives me much pleasure to extend to the American Legion my heartiest good wishes for success on the occasion of the first issue of the official paper of the society of veterans of the great war. The Legion is destined to be of tremendous value in fostering the ideals and purposes for which we fought and in spreading among our people the lessons learned in the war."

"The American Legion Weekly, as the medium of communication throughout the country, will more closely unite the already strong bonds of comradeship among the members.
I predict a most useful future for the Legion and the loyal support of all for the new Weekly."

The Legion's magazine will have an initial circulation of 100,000 copies. Reports from the state branches indicate, however, that the organization of local posts by national service men throughout the entire country is progressing so rapidly that half a million copies will be required within a few weeks. Charters issued to local posts represent every state in the union.

The initial number of the Weekly will have thirty-two pages. It will contain a historical article describing the inception, development and organization of the Legion, its purposes and immediate program leading up to the national convention in Minneapolis on November 10, 11 and 12; an article by Major Rupert Hughes, the novelist, on "Unfinished Business," to the effect that peace does not terminate national service for the four million Americans who went to the war;
an article by Franklin K. Lane, Secretary of the interior, on "Homes for Soldiers," and an article by Henry Woodhouse, vice-president of the Aerial League of America, on the recent Trans-Atlantic Flights.

Besides the message from General Pershing, Lord Northcliffe, former President William Howard Taft, and state governors have contributed articles endorsing the American Legion.
The Weekly also contains cartoons by Briggs and J. Norman Lynd; a sports review by Walter Camp; editorials, a page of humor, and reports from the state branches of the American Legion, showing the progress of organization of local posts since the meetings of soldier, sailor and marine delegates in Paris and St. Louis.
The new publication was authorized by the St. Louis meeting which dedicated it to be "a national, non-partisan, non-sectional information service for the American people, a champion of Americanism—Americanism which means independence, security, health, education, more contentment and progress, for every patriot a stake in his own country—to be the torch, the beacon light thrown into our hands by the Americans who fell in battle and held a unique and living movement to that other legion which did not come back."
The editorial staff is composed of former service men of newspaper and magazine experience. George Palmer Putnam of New York city is chairman of the committee in charge of the Weekly. Among those associated with him are Robert C. Vance of New Britain, Connecticut; Charles D. Kelley of Detroit, Michigan; Donald McGregor of Washington, D. C.; James S. Jett of Wickliffe, Kentucky; John W. Young of Austin,
Texas, and J. Leo Meehan of Salt Lake City, Utah.

California

this summer

Cool in summer by the sea,
And cool up in the Sierra.

The glorious out-of-doors beckons you,
every day.

You may auto on thousands of miles of smooth boulevards.

You may camp in lovely Yosemite, or where the Big Tree groves are, or alongside some ice-cold mountain brook.

You may climb the snowy slopes of Mt.
Whitney or Mt. Shasta.

You may bathe in the blue Pacific—where the surf rolls in, or in quiet waters.

Go to California this summer and see for yourself.

On the way visit some of the National Parks and National Monuments—the nation's playgrounds—Rocky Mountain, Glacier, Yellowstone, Mt. Rainier, Crater
Lake, Grand Canyon, Mesa Verde and others. Return,

STONE INC., OPEN OFFICE IN CITY

New Contracting Firm in Keeney Theater Building—Local Office in Charge of J. N. Lassen, Formerly With Shipping Board.

C. O. Stone & Son, Inc., contractors, with main office in Middletown, Conn., have opened a branch office in the Keeney Theater building on Wall street, in charge of J. N. Lassen. The concern has been in business for the past thirty-five years.

They have just closed a $50,000 contract to erect a sanitarium at Liberty, N. Y., and also the contract to remodel two houses owned by Charles A. Warren on Clinton avenue.

Mr. Lassen, in charge of the office here, has been in the general contracting business for the past ten years. He was formerly with the shipping board and located in Kingston as resident engineer with the Kingston Shipbuilding Corporation on the Island Dock shipyard. During the time he has been in Kingston, Mr. Lassen has made a number of friends.

HOSPITAL GIFTS.

Tuberculosis Hospital Given Needed Articles—What Is Needed.

The following gifts to the tuberculosis hospital during the month of June have been fully appreciated by the superintendent and superintendent nurse and patients: 4 cans of fruit from Mrs. G. W. Nash of Hurley, cut flowers from A. Friend; 6 bound books from Miss Viva L. Free of Esopus; cut flowers from Burgevin's Sons, who also filled the large center bed with flowers, magazines from Mrs. Carl Preston, old linen from Mrs. George Palmer; flowers from the Elmendorf Street Presbyterian Church, flowers from Mrs. Joseph Turner. The work of the special T. B. visiting nurse and the clinics which have been held in the county is shown in the fact that the hospital is being kept fully occupied. One request is made by Miss Hamburger and that urgently it is for more and still more old linen or cotton or cheesecloth.

NO STAMP EXCHANGE.

Threes Will Not be Exchanged for Twos.

Somebody set afloat a report in the press that post offices would exchange three-cent adhesive stamps in any quantity for two-cent stamps after June 30. It appears this report was not correct. Postmaster DeWitt has received an official order from the post office department at Washington which reads as follows: "Postmasters must not redeem three-cent adhesive postage stamps for the public and must not return to the department their stock of these stamps in sheets, books or coils." The stock of three-cent stamps in private hands is probably small, as the public had due notice of the purpose to return to the two-cent postage on July 1. The three-cent stamps will have to be used up in the various other ways that call for more than two-cent postage.

Christian Endeavorers Picked.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the First Reformed Church was entertained on Monday evening by a picnic at Lake Katrine. Two jolly straw loads, numbering in all about 30 people, and representing members of every age, enjoyed every moment of the evening. Straw fights, merry games and a delicious supper were features of special attraction. Much credit is due the social committee for this thoroughly delightful event.

Enters Annapolis.

G. Arthur T. Washburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Washburn of Coxsackie, and one of the graduates and valedictorian of the class of 1919, Coxsackie High School, on July 1st entered the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., receiving his appointment through Hon. Charles B. Ward, congressman from the 27th district. Young Washburn is 16 years old and passed a high physical examination, being one of four competitors.

All Stars Defeated.

The Swamp Angels defeated the O'Reilly All Stars Wednesday by a score of 11-5. This is 7 games out of 7 to the Swamp Angels' credit. The battery for the Swamp Angels was K. Holzing on the mound and J. Sweeney at the receiving end.

Card of Thanks.

Mrs. Frank S. Osterhoudt and family desire to express their heartfelt gratitude to the many friends and neighbors of Frank Osterhoudt for the many acts of kindness shown them in their hour of sorrow and for the beautiful floral offerings sent by these friends and neighbors as a tribute to the memory of one whom they all honored and loved. High-Grade Food Products in Lay's Fourth of July Sale

OPEN UNTIL NOON FRIDAY.

For our Fourth of July sale today and Saturday we have arranged a special list of friendship-strengthening values that may mean a little less profit to us at this time, but kinds that will cultivate favor for this market with housekeepers of intelligence who determine economy by price, quality and service.

To those who will take an outing, enjoy a picnic or visit some place where a lunch will be necessary, we offer the advice of taking along some of our delicious Bologna. Its tasty flavor will stimulate and satisfy the appetite and at the same time afford needed nourishment. To those who will remain at home we recommend our Wiener Wurst and Frankfurters as the simplest and most satisfactory manner of entertaining "company." Once you try either of our palatable home-made products as we now make them, you'll never be without them.

The Temperature.

The lowest point registered by The Freeman's thermometer last night was 66 degrees. The highest point reached up until noon today was 83 degrees.

Weather Forecast.

Washington, July 3.—Fair today and Friday; continued warm; gentle variable winds.

FLYER ADAMS HERE FRIDAY

Lieutenant Benjamin Adams, of the aviation corps, has notified his father, E. G. Adams, of Pine Street, that he would leave Mineola flying field Fourth of July morning, and would land near Forsyth Park some time near noon, if, after circling the park he sees a suitable landing place. If no such place appears he will land somewhere along the Saenger road. Lieutenant Adams with other members of the aviation corps, left the flying field in Texas recently in a flight to Boston, which was successfully completed.

State Takes Greenbush Bridge.

The Greenbush bridge, since 1852 the connecting link between Albany and Rensselaer, passed from private ownership to New York state control Wednesday afternoon, when an impressive ceremony, presided over by Governor Smith, dedicated it to the main highway between Albany and Rensselaer counties and the public property of New York state.

Strand Is Very Dusty.

While the street department is awaiting the arrival of street oil it would not be a bad idea to have the street sprinkler make a trip or two through the Strand to Pouckhookie. With dust flying thick the street will not create a favorable impression on the many visitors who will throng the city during the holiday.

By fast aeroplane the NEW YORK AMERICAN will receive pictures of the big fight. Read the NEW YORK AMERICAN Saturday and Sunday—Advertisement.

BETTING AT EVEN MONEY ON FIGHT

If Fight Goes 12 Rounds, Judgment of Two Officials Will Name Victor—Referee To Announce Result Of Knockout Or Foul.

The heavyweight championship fight between Jess Willard and Jack Dempsey tomorrow at Toledo is scheduled to start at 4 o'clock Kingston time, rain or shine.

Attendance will be well over 45,000 and gate receipts may reach promoters' estimate of million dollars.

Promoters' expenses close to half million.

Betting at even money with little coin in sight.

Both fighters claim to be fit to battle for a king's ransom.

Willard gets $100,000 win, lose or draw. Dempsey's share will be $27,500.

Ticket prices run from $10 to $60.

Hotels at Toledo jammed to sky-lights at $10 per bed per night.

Ollie Pecord is the referee and Tex Rickard and Major Anthony J. Drexel Biddle are the judges.

If the fight ends in a knockout or on a foul, Pecord will be the sole ruler. But if both men are on their feet at the end of the 12th round it will be considerably different.

Immediately after the final round ends, the master of ceremonies will go to one side of the ring and collect the written decision of Rickard and then get that of Biddle.

Both slips of paper will be passed over to Pecord who will wait in the ring with the fighters.

Pecord will look at the slips. If the judges are a unit in their decision, he then will announce it and give the name of the men they have called the victor.

And that is the official decision. But if Rickard and Biddle the other, then the official announcement will state that the judges have disagreed and that the referee will decide. Then Pecord will tell his decision to the announcer who will proclaim it—and that becomes the official decision.

Because of the time it will take to collect the votes of Rickard and Biddle and for Pecord to look them over, etc., it may be nearly a minute after the 12th round ends before the result is known.

Last Thursday evening, we of the Odd Fellow Lodge, celebrated our 10th anniversary. While it had rained all day and did not seem to want to let up at night for the celebration, it went on just the same and everyone was in a jolly mood and nothing interfered with the good time in the lodge room and Feeter's Hall, where the banquet was served, and it seemed that good fellowship increased throughout the entire evening. The rooms were nicely decorated and all were seated at long tables and an extra table used as speaker's table. A delicious beef supper was served and witty and appropriate toasts were given by several prominent men and women and these were all very graciously received and the whole affair we considered thoroughly enjoyable. The music was furnished by Poughkeepsie parties. The committees in charge seemed to consider the comfort and pleasure of all and provided for us in every detail. Our lodge, I. O. O. F., has been increasing in numbers and interest of late and as a member would say let us always be ready to do our share in promoting the interests of humanity and inculcate the principles of service and those who look upon themselves as a link connecting the past with the future do not perform their duty to the world. Certainly the occasion of this "three link" affair will always remain a very pleasant memory to an Odd Fellow.
